Outdated content. A: what you want is to split your string by " - ". You can do this in your case like this: var newArr = originalString.split(" - "); Here is a complete code: console.log('OriginalString: ', originalString); var newArr = originalString.split(" - "); console.log(newArr); However, if you have more than one " - " in your originalString, then you should use the following code: var newArr = originalString.split(" - "); if(newArr.length >= 2) { var temp = newArr[1]; newArr[1] = newArr[0]; newArr[0] = temp; console.log(newArr); } So, if there is more than one " - ", you can take the second one, put it into the first one, then put the first one back in the second one. Hope it helps Pricing Insurance Health Insurance in Niagara On The Lake At Norton Insurance Group, we realize that life can be a little bit unpredictable.
