Download: Ulonga 07-17-06, 02:05 PM You're referring to the point of Corporate Tracker Pro in your original post, but it's not clear if you are referring to that or Private Tracker Pro. Neither of those applications do what you describe. In addition, both of those applications have a 14 day trial period, not a lifetime. That application allows businesses to track the whereabouts of their workers and reward them for on-the-job performance. Your original post that I referenced said that it tracked the user's location and logged the locations that the user has visited into a hidden log file. I can't tell where you're getting your information from. Anyhow, I've posted a copy of the application here: PegLegs 07-17-06, 05:18 PM It just dawned on me why the Verizon version is $29.95; because all that crap about 0.4% requires payment every month.
